Types of Customer Service

Face-to-face

In serving members of the public who come to Council seeking information or to transact business we will:

- Provide professional and courteous customer service.
- Make staff available for interviews on request (making a mutually convenient appointment time if the staff member is not available), or by prior arrangement during Council's hours of business.
- Where appropriate, make appointments to visit a customer external to Council's facilities.
- Speak clearly and deal with visitors calmly, courteously and patiently, even when visitors are angry, aggressive or distressed.

Telephone Calls

Telephone calls are an important way in which customers communicate with the Council. We undertake to:

- Advise all callers of the name of the person answering the call, or making the call where it is outgoing from Council.
- Answer all calls promptly and efficiently, providing clear and concise information, and redirecting the call to the appropriate officer where necessary.
- Speak clearly, deal with customers calmly, courteously and patiently, even when the callers are angry, aggressive or distressed.
- Put calls on hold for the minimum amount of time possible.
- Ensure all messages include details of the caller's name, contact number and message as well as details of who took the message and when.
- Respond to telephone messages within one business day, or if this is not possible give clear advice to the caller about when the caller can expect a response.
- Record all significant calls in the form of a written file note in Council's official recordkeeping systems.

Written Correspondence

Council recognises the importance of written correspondence, including letters, facsimiles and email messages and will provide clear, concise and prompt responses. We will:

- Respond to written correspondence by telephone where appropriate and record the response in Council's official recordkeeping systems.
- Reply to correspondence within ten working days. Complex matters may take longer to finalise or may need to be referred to a Council meeting. Under these circumstances an interim response prior to completion may be required, either in writing or by telephone.
- Ensure that all outward correspondence includes the name and contact details of the officer dealing with the matter and Council's file reference.

After Hours Emergencies

At certain times it is necessary to contact the Council outside of normal business hours. At these times we undertake to:

- Respond to messages left on the answering machine within one business day.
- Redirect after hours calls, through our message service, to the Ranger and Overseer on Duty.
- Respond to calls based on the severity of the emergency, prevailing circumstances and public safety. Prioritisation will be based on written standards incorporated into Council's strategic business plans and standard operating procedures. Where necessary work will be carried out immediately or scheduled for completion during normal working hours.
- Non urgent enquiries will be referred to the appropriate staff member and dealt in accordance with Council's comment and complaint handling procedures.

Comments & Complaints

If you are pleased with our level of service, then please take a moment to let us know. We value your feedback, either in person, by mail, telephone, fax or email, as it gives us the opportunity to recognise and reward excellent service by our staff.

Complaints or suggestions are also welcome as they provide us with an opportunity to improve customer service levels. If you are aware of a problem or dissatisfied about a specific Council decision, policy, procedure, charge, staff member or quality of service please let us know in the following ways:

- Contact us by telephone, mail, fax, email or visit the Shire Office.
 - Staff receiving your comment will register it and ensure that it is resolved as quickly as possible.
 - If the issue cannot be resolved by the person you first speak to, you may be referred to a manager or someone in a specialist area who will be responsible for resolving your complaint.
 - Upon completion of the investigation, and within ten working days, you will receive a reply outlining any action taken or what will be done to resolve the matter.
- If you are not satisfied with the response you receive, you can appeal to the General Manager or Council's Public Officer who will review the decision and report back to you as soon as possible and within 28 days.
- If you are still not satisfied with the response you may be able to take your complaint to the Department of Local Government, the Independent Commission Against Corruption or the NSW Ombudsman depending on the issue involved.

Rude, Abusive or Aggressive Customers

If in the opinion of any staff member, rude, abusive or aggressive comments or statements are made in telephone conversations or interviews, the staff member may:

- Warn the customer that if the behaviour continues, the conversation or interview will be terminated.
- Terminate the conversation or interview if the rude, abusive or aggressive behaviour continues after a warning has been given.

Rude abusive or aggressive behaviour may include rude or otherwise vulgar noises, expressions or gestures, verbal abuse of a personal or general nature, intimidating, threatening or offensive behaviour, physical violence against property, or physical violence against a person.

Where a conversation or interview is terminated, the staff member will inform their supervisor of the incident and make a diary note of the event. Where appropriate, the Supervisor will discuss the matter with the Director to determine what action should be taken with respect to the customer's behaviour.

Anonymous Customer Action Requests

Council will not normally investigate anonymous action requests, unless the issue places public safety at risk or raises a serious matter, and there is sufficient information in the complaint to make out a prima facie case or to carry out an investigation.
